Faith Promise Missions

November 4 was our annual Faith Promise Sunday, but it is not too late to submit a card indicating the amount you intend to give in the coming year. The total promised as of 11/18 for 2019 is $17,252. Our support commitments total $22,200, so we are still well below that.

If you have not yet done so, or if you believe the Lord would have you give more than you indicated on the card you've already submitted, just fill out one of the cards that are available on the table in the foyer indicating the additional amount you plan to give and drop the tear-off stub in the offering plate.

December Calendars

December calendars are on the table in the back. Highlights include the choir cantata in the morning service on the 16th, our annual Christmas dinner and party in the evening on the 16th, and a service of carols and communion on the evening of the 23rd.

Community Events of Special Interest

Tuesday, December 4, at 8:00 p.m., the Athens Choral Society will present Robert Shaw's "The Many Moods of Christmas" (all four suites). This will be an hour of traditional Christmas music sung by a 100-voice choir with a full orchestra. The concert is free and open seating (no tickets needed), and will be held at UGA's Hodgson Hall.

Saturday, December 8, at 8:00 p.m., the Athens Symphony Orchestra will perform their annual Christmas concert at the Classic Center. This is also a free concert, but admission is by ticket only. Free tickets (in sets of 4) will be available at the Classic Center box office on Monday, November 26. The box office will open at 10:00 a.m., and tickets are usually all claimed within about an hour, so if you want to go you should get to the box office early and stand in line.
