He Died for Me

John Newton, best known as the writer of “Amazing Grace,” also wrote the hymn “He Died for Me” (#288) with which we will close the service this morning. Below is the original first stanza that is omitted from most hymnals:

In evil long I took delight, unawed by shame or fear,
Till a new object struck my sight, and stopped my wild career.

Happy Birthday, Ms. Nellie!

This evening we will have our “fifth Sunday” fellowship four weeks early, so we can help Ms. Nellie Bray celebrate her 90th birthday. Bring enough food for your family's dinner (and a little extra to share) to the Fellowship Hall this evening at 5:00. The church will provide the birthday cake.

Therefore I urge you, brothers and sisters, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living and holy sacrifice, acceptable to God, which is your spiritual service of worship. And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, so that you may prove what the will of God is, that which is good and acceptable and perfect. For through the grace given to me I say to everyone among you not to think more highly of himself than he ought to think; but to think so as to have sound judgment, as God has allotted to each a measure of faith. For just as we have many parts in one body and all the body's parts do not have the same function, so we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and individually parts of one another. However, since we have gifts that differ according to the grace given to us, each of us is to use them properly: if prophecy, in proportion to one's faith; if service, in the act of serving; or the one who teaches, in the act of teaching; or the one who exhorts, in the work of exhortation; the one who gives, with generosity; the one who is in leadership, with diligence; the one who shows mercy, with cheerfulness.
